

Budget Review

Service Summary

Budget Review

Chilling words

The words “Overfunding”, “Non-performing Asset” and “No Funds Left” bring chills to most lenders. The borrower asks “WHY?” and the builder asks “WHERE?”. Trinity’s Budget Review helps mitigate the risks of hearing those chilling words.

Our risk management team, comprised of former home builders, reviews residential and commercial construction plans to determine if the budget accurately reflects the scope of work necessary to complete the project as designed. Upon identification of potential issues, Trinity communicates areas of risk to the lender. Our process allows lenders the ability to confidently provide funds knowing the entire construction project is financially feasible.
